Use children's medicines safely..... 6

Before you think about how to get your kids to take their medicine, make sure you're giving them the correct dose. Giving Over-the-Counter Medicines to Children explains that it's the child's weight, more than her age, that matters. This pamphlet walks you through the medicine's Drug Facts label, which contains warnings and side effects information, and provides a checklist for buying the right OTC medicine for your little patient.

Bank, shop online securely ..... 10

Whether you're leery of Internet banking and shopping or conduct most of your business on the Web, you'll pick up new ways to outsmart online thieves with Online Banking, Bill Paying and Shopping: 10 Ways to Protect Your Money. You'll also get a rundown on the new federal rules limiting bank overdraft fees and tips on managing the pain of medical debts.

Protect kids from lead paint dangers ..... 10

Homes and buildings built before 1978 often used lead-based paint in their construction. If disturbed, this paint can pose a serious threat to the health of children under age 6, and can also harm adults. Learn more in Renovate Right: Important Lead Hazard Information for Families, Child Care Providers and Schools.

PUBLICATION PRICING

As you look through the Catalog, you'll see that some publications have an individual price and others do not. Booklets are free to the consumer if the sponsoring agency pays the printing and distribution costs. When a booklet has a sales price, the Government Printing Office (GPO) sets the price to cover these costs, and prices vary accordingly. When a booklet is $1.50, the sponsoring agencies cover some of the costs normally paid by GPO.
